Take a guess!

Why do you think Intrepid is so large?

How many people do you think would work on a ship that large?

Living On Intrepid!

Men who served on board Intrepid would often be away from their homes 6-9 months at a time. That would be like you going to your school in September and not coming home until June!

Most of the Intrepid crew had a small living space that they shared with many other men.

Men kept their belongings in one section of a "three-man locker."

What would you want to have with you while far away from home?

List or draw the items above!
